DUKE UNIVERSITY PRESS

The ocean and its inhabitants sketch and stretch our understandings of law in unexpected ways. Inspired by the blue turn in the social sciences and humanities, Blue Legalities explores how regulatory frameworks and governmental infrastructures are made, reworked, and contested in the oceans. Its interdisciplinary contributors analyze topics that range from militarization and Maori cosmologies to island building in the South China Sea and underwater robotics. Throughout, Blue Legalities illuminates the vast and unusual challenges associated with regulating the turbulent materialities and lives of the sea. Offering much more than an analysis of legal frameworks, the chapters in this volume show how the more-than-human ocean is central to the construction of terrestrial institutions and modes of governance. By thinking with the more-than-human ocean, Blue Legalities questions what we think we know—and what we don't know—about oceans, our earthly planet, and ourselves.

The Toughest Gun Control Law in the Nation

The Unfulfilled Promise of New York's SAFE Act

JAMES B. JACOBS & ZOE FUHR

November 2019 304pp

9781479835614 £25.99 / $32.00 HB

NEW YORK UNIVERSITY PRESS

In The Toughest Gun Control Law in the Nation, James B. Jacobs and Zoe Fuhr ask whether the 2013 SAFE Act—hailed by Governor Andrew Cuomo as “the nation’s toughest gun control law”—has lived up to its promise. Jacobs and Fuhr illuminate the gap between gun control on the books and gun control in action. They argue that, to be effective, gun controls must be capable of implementation and enforcement. This requires realistic design, administrative and enforcement capacity and commitment and ongoing political and fiscal support. They show that while the SAFE Act was good symbolic politics, most of its provisions were not effectively implemented or, if implemented, not enforced. Gun control in a society awash with guns poses an immense regulatory challenge. The Toughest Gun Control Law in the Nation takes a tough-minded look at the technological, administrative, fiscal and local political impediments to effectively keeping guns out of the hands of dangerous persons and eliminating some types of guns altogether.

Mettray

A History of France's Most Venerated Carceral Institution

STEPHEN A. TOTH

November 2019 296pp 10 b&w halftones

9781501740183 £38.00 / $43.95 HB

CORNELL UNIVERSITY PRESS

The Mettray Penal Colony was a private reformatory without walls, established in France in 1840 for the rehabilitation of young male delinquents. Foucault linked its opening to the most significant change in the modern status of prisons and now, at last, Stephen Toth takes us behind the gates to show how the institution legitimized France's repression of criminal youth and added a unique layer to the nation's carceral system. Drawing on insights from sociology, criminology, critical theory, and social history, Stephen Toth dissects Mettray's social anatomy, exploring inmates' experiences and demonstrating that the colony was an ill-conceived project marked by internal contradictions. Toth explores the daily grind of existence: living conditions, discipline, labor, sex, and violence. Thus, he gives voice to the incarcerated, not simply to the incarcerators, whose ideas and agendas tend to dominate the historical record. Mettray is, above all else, a deeply personal illumination of life inside France's most venerated carceral institution.

The Arc of Protection

Reforming the International Refugee Regime

ALEX ALEINIKOFF & LEAH ZAMORE

September 2019 145pp

9781503611412 £11.99 / $14.00 PB

STANFORD UNIVERSITY PRESS

Designed in the wake of World War II to provide protection and assistance, the international refugee system is unable to address the record numbers of persons displaced by conflict and violence today. States have put up fences and adopted policies to deny, deter, and detain asylum seekers. People recognized as refugees are routinely denied rights guaranteed by international law. The results are dismal for the millions of refugees around the world who are left with slender prospects to rebuild their lives or contribute to host communities. T. Alexander Aleinikoff and Leah Zamore lay bare the underlying global crisis of responsibility. The Arc of Protection adopts a revisionist and critical perspective that examines the original premises of the international refugee regime. Aleinikoff and Zamore identify compromises at the founding of the system that attempted to balance humanitarian ideals with developmental aims and sovereign control of their borders by states. This book offers a way out of the current international morass through refocusing on responsibility-sharing, seeing the humanitarian-development divide in a new light, and putting refugee rights front and center.

9781503610958 £22.99 / $28.00 PB
9781503603301 £77.00 / $90.00 HB
STANFORD UNIVERSITY PRESS

The Color of Creatorship contributes to a rapidly developing conversation in critical race intellectual property. Vats argues that once anti-racist activists grapple with the underlying racial structures of intellectual property law, they can better advocate for strategies that resist the underlying drivers of racially disparate copyright, patent, and trademark policy.

The Grip of Sexual Violence in Conflict

Feminist Interventions in International Law

Engle reveals that as transnational feminists began to pay attention to sexual violence in conflict, they often did so at the cost of attention to other issues. This book offers a detailed examination of how these commitments were not merely deprioritized, but undermined, by efforts to address the sole issue of sexual violence.

The Psychology of Property Law
